NEW ORDINANCE TO GOVERN JITNEYS

At the adjourned September meeting of the common council Monday night, which lasted a little less than an hour, amendments to the traffic ordinances to regulate the public service cars in the city were proposed and are to be published in regular form so as to make them effective in due time.

The new ordinances, which are designed to exclude the jitneys from doing business in certain streets, are drawn in such a way as it is believed will bring them within the requirements to make them legal as indicated by Judge George E. Hinman when he issued an injunction against a previous set of ordinances passed by the council with the same end in view of excluding the jitneys from certain streets.

The text of the new proposed ordinance reads that the public streets are to be officially designated and fixed as traffic routes for all public service motor vehicles while operated as such except "the streets from which they are to be excluded."

The section from which the jitneys are to be excluded by the ordinance are Main street, Washington square to Burnham square, Shetucket street from Main to Water, Broadway from Main street to Bath street, all of Bath street, Market street from Main to Water, Franklin street from the square to Willow street, and all of Franklin square, Ferry street and Rose place. A section of the ordinance provides a $50 fine for infraction of its provisions, and another section established a 30-minute parking period on the westerly side of Franklin street from the Franklin square to Willow street. It was explained that this was done at the request of a large number of merchants along the street.

Water Board Once More.

One other matter furnished interest in the meeting outside of the routine business which the council session was largely filled. This related to the annual report of former President Walter W. Lang, covering last year, for printing with the annual journal of the council.

The councilman, Edward Crooks, who is the council member of the water board, reported the election of Reuben S. Bartlett as president to succeed Albert S. Compagno, resigned, and asked approval by the council and that the salary be fixed at $500. The council voted approval.

In response to an inquiry from Alderman C. V. Pennington, Jr., Clerk William R. Friable said that the water board report for last year was not in his possession for printing with the common council journal, but that he had received it from the board. He said that the report had never taken it back the next day and had never returned it. Questioned further, Mr. Friable said that Mr. Lang had given him a report at the June meeting of the council, but the next day had sent the clerk of the board after it, saying that he wanted to look it over for 15 or 20 minutes, and has never returned it, although Mr. Friable was written to him, for it.

Councilman Crooks said he had asked about the report at the meetings of the water board, but nobody had been able to give him any satisfaction about it. He thought it was important that this report should be secured and returned to the board to get it, as had been suggested by Alderman Pennington. This was voted by the council.

Payroll Savings in Water Department.

Figures were reported at the council meeting showing that there had been a saving of about $170 per week in the water department since republican control succeeded the democratic on the first of July. For the three months up to July the payroll figures were given as $46,062.40, while in the 11 weeks from July 1 to Sept. 11 the total payrolls had been $41,258.50, which was a difference of $4,803.90 in favor of republican control of the water department.

Mayor Herbert M. Lerou stated that this had not been accomplished through any let-down in the work of the department, since it had been very active in the past three months, and Councilman Crooks said that there had been more work done in the past three months than had been done in three years, and he didn't say that because he was a member of the board, but on the authority of employees of the department.

Petitions Presented.

Mayor Lerou called the meeting to order at 8:20 and a number of petitions and reports were acted upon.

The council voted approval of the police commissioners' recommendation for a boulevard on Linden parkway on the application of Howard L. Stanton and others. Alderman W. S. Murray presented the report.

Alderman Charles F. Wells presented a report of progress on the petition of Angelo Covello for the acceptance of Cliff street extension, on which there is to be a city meeting on Friday night.

Frank J. Martin was elected a special constable upon his application to the council.

The following petitions were acted on: Fred N. Dyer and others for tax on asphalt sidewalk on westerly side of Hedge avenue. Referred to public works committee.

Mrs. N. Lathrop and others for two lights on Dunham street. To police commissioners.

Mitchell Bogosky for electric light on Pond street. To police commissioners.

T. J. Shahan Co. for gasoline tank and pump at 18 Bath street. To public works committee with power. Alderman Pennington advised that care ought to be exercised in granting permits because of the narrowness of the street, with which Mayor Lerou concurred.

Fred N. Dyer and others for street light on Geer avenue. To police commissioners.

J. Sullivan and others for the acceptance of the westerly end of Cove street from North High to Forest street. To public works committee.

Southern New England Telephone Co. for right to excavate in Broadway. Shetucket and Water streets, as they are to enlarge the underground space at 10 manholes. To public works committee with power.

Charles A. Hagberg for establishment of the north line of Main street from the Chelsea Savings bank to the Triple Link building. Public works committee reported the measurements for such a line and a hearing is to be held at the council meeting on Oct. 4.

After the following department bills were read and appropriations voted, the meeting adjourned at 9:05: Water department, $5,351.84; gas and electric (73), $4,563.50; finance (47), $15,451.31; fire (303), $5,120.46; public works (55), $12,824.07; park (9), $814.49; police (12), $5,541.84; street lighting, $3,222.09; cemetery (12), $594.32.

HIGHWAYMAN SHOT ENDERS

IS PROSECUTOR'S CONCLUSION

Lionel Putnam, son of W. H. Putnam of 6 Myrtle street, Hartford, William B. Quaintance of 218 West avenue, New York city, and Lindsey B. Dodge of 300 West 106th street, New York city, the young men held by the Groton police officials since Sept. 1, as material witnesses in connection with the shooting of Ostrom Enders, 17 year old son of John O. Enders, president of the United States bank of Hartford, on the night of Aug. 31, on the Fishtown road, Mystic.

The three youths were companions of Enders in a Dodge touring car, when the latter was shot through the stomach. They claimed that they had been held up by a highwayman, who shot young Enders. Prosecutor Burrows stated on Monday morning that he was convinced that the story told by the young men is true.

POETRY

WHAT DOES IT MATTER?

What does it matter that the time shall come
When all my petals shall be blown away,
Leaving a brittle stalk where wild bees hum
And woe the living flowers all the day?
I, too, have trembled to the kiss they brought,
Was wooed and knew the sunlight and the dew,
I, too, have trembled to the living thought,
Have bent and swayed the teeming summer through;
These have been mine into the uttermost,
And peradventure shall be mine again.
When some new shell becomes my spirit's host,
Life, beautiful as this, shall fill me then.
And strange new thoughts may grace another spring.
Making existence seem a deeper thing.
